SECTION I INTRODUCTION AND SCOPE

Article 1- Introduction:

(1) The protection of personal data is one of the key priorities of Nurol Holding A.Ş. (the "Company"), and the Company makes every effort to comply with all applicable legislation in this respect. Nurol Holding A.Ş. Personal Data Protection and Processing Policy (the "Policy") constitutes the principal framework adopted by the Company in this area.

(2) This Policy sets out the principles adopted by the Company when carrying out personal data processing activities and the fundamental rules followed to ensure that such activities comply with the Law on the Protection of Personal Data No. 6698 (the "Law"). By informing data subjects, the Company thereby ensures the requisite transparency. Fully aware of its obligations under applicable legislation, the Company processes and protects your personal data in accordance with this Policy.

Article 2- Scope:

(1) This Policy applies to all personal data relating to third parties other than Company employees that are processed by automated means or by non-automated means, provided that such non-automated processing forms part of a data filing system as part of a data filing system.

(2) Detailed information on the relevant data subjects is provided in Annex 1 ("Annex 1- Data Subjects") to this Policy.

(3) Activities relating to the protection of the personal data of Company employees are governed by the Nurol Group Employees' Personal Data Protection and Processing Policy.

SECTION II PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE PROCESSING OF PERSONAL DATA

Article 3- Processing of Personal Data in accordance with the Principles Prescribed by Law:

(1) Lawfulness and Fairness:

Personal data is processed lawfully and fairly, without prejudice to individuals' fundamental rights and freedoms. Accordingly, personal data is processed only to the extent required by, and limited to, the Company's business activities.

(2) Ensuring that Personal Data is Accurate and, where Necessary, Up to Date:

The Company takes the necessary measures to ensure that personal data remains accurate and up-to-date throughout the processing period and establishes mechanisms to verify the accuracy and currency of personal data at regular intervals.

(3) Processing for Specified, Explicit and Legitimate Purposes:

The Company clearly identifies the purposes for which personal data is processed and processes such data for purposes that are connected with and necessary for its business activities.

(4) Processing in a Manner that is Relevant, Limited and Proportionate to the Purposes:

The Company collects personal data only of the type and to the extent required for its business activities and processes such data solely for the specified purposes.

(5) Retention for the Period Prescribed by Applicable Legislation or Necessary for the Purpose of Processing:

The Company retains personal data for as long as necessary for the purposes for which they are processed and, in any event, for at least the minimum retention period prescribed by applicable legislation. Accordingly, the Company first determines whether applicable legislation prescribes a specific retention period for personal data and, where such a period is prescribed, complies with that period. If no statutory retention period applies, personal data is retained for as long as necessary for the purposes for which they are processed. Upon expiry of the applicable retention periods, personal data is erased, destroyed and/or anonymized using the prescribed disposal methods, in accordance with the applicable periodic disposal schedule or upon a data subject's request.

Article 4- Conditions for Processing Personal Data:

(1) The data subject's explicit consent is only one of the legal grounds for the lawful processing of personal data. Where any of the conditions set out below is met, the Company may process personal data without obtaining the data subject's explicit consent.

(2) In the absence of explicit consent, a personal data processing activity may rely on one or more of the conditions set out below. Where the data processed constitutes special category personal data, the conditions set out in Article 5 of this Policy, entitled "Processing of Special Category Personal Data" shall apply.

(3) Personal data may be processed by the Company without the data subject's explicit consent in the following circumstances:

1. Expressly Provided for by Law:

Where the processing is expressly provided for by law - in other words, where the relevant law contains an express provision concerning the processing of personal data - the Company may process the data subject's personal data within the framework prescribed by applicable legislation.

2. Inability to Obtain Consent Due to Actual Impossibility:

The data subject's personal data may be processed where processing is necessary to protect the life or physical integrity of the data subject or another person and the data subject is unable to express consent due to actual impossibility or their consent is not legally valid.

3. Direct Relevance to the Conclusion or Performance of a Contract:

This condition is met where the processing of personal data is necessary and directly related to the conclusion or performance of a contract to which the data subject is a party.

4. Compliance with the Company's Legal Obligations:

The data subject's personal data may be processed where processing is necessary for the Company to comply with its legal obligations.

5. Personal Data Made Public by the Data Subject:

Where the data subject has made their personal data public, the relevant personal data may be processed only for the purpose for which it was made public.

6. Necessity of Processing for the Establishment, Exercise or Protection of a Right:

The data subject's personal data may be processed where processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise, or protection of a right.

7. Necessity of Processing for the Company's Legitimate Interests:

The data subject's personal data may be processed where processing is necessary for the Company's legitimate interests, provided that the data subject's fundamental rights and freedoms are not prejudiced.

Article 5- Processing of Special Category Personal Data:

(1) The Law affords special protection to certain categories of personal data due to the risk that unlawful processing may cause individuals to suffer harm or discrimination. Such "special category" personal data includes data relating to race, ethnic origin, political opinion, philosophical belief, religion, sect or other beliefs, appearance and clothing, membership of associations, foundations or trade unions, health, sexual life, criminal convictions and security measures, and biometric and genetic data.

(2) Although the processing of special category personal data is prohibited as a rule, the Company may process such data in the circumstances specified in the Law, in accordance with the principles set out in this Policy and subject to all necessary administrative and technical measures, including the measures prescribed by the Personal Data Protection Board (the "Board"), where any of the following conditions is met:

a) The data subject has given explicit consent;
b) Processing is expressly provided for by law;
c) Processing is necessary to protect the life or physical integrity of the data subject or another person, where the data subject is unable to express consent due to actual impossibility or their consent is not legally valid;
d) Processing relates to personal data made public by the data subject and is consistent with the data subject's intention in making the data public;
e) Processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or protection of a right;
f) Processing is necessary for the protection of public health; preventive medicine; medical diagnosis; the provision of treatment and care services; or the planning, management and financing of healthcare services, and is carried out by persons subject to a duty of confidentiality or by authorized institutions and organizations;
g) Processing is necessary to fulfil legal obligations in the areas of employment, occupational health and safety, social security, social services and social assistance.

(3) Special category personal data may also be processed by foundations, associations, and other non-profit organizations or entities established for political, philosophical, religious, or trade union purposes, provided that the processing is consistent with the applicable legislation and their purposes, is limited to their fields of activity, does not involve disclosure to third parties, and relates to their current or former members or affiliates, or to persons who are in regular contact with such organizations or entities.

Article 6- Categories of Personal Data Processed and Purposes of Processing:

(1) The categories of personal data processed by the Company in accordance with the Law and other applicable legislation, within the purposes and conditions set out in this Policy, are described in detail in Annex 2 ("Annex 2- Categories of Personal Data") to this Policy.

(2) In accordance with the Law and other applicable legislation, and subject to the conditions for processing personal data and special category personal data detailed in this Policy, the Company processes personal data for the following purposes:

1. Planning and/or carrying out the Company's human resources policies and processes;
2. Planning and/or carrying out activities to ensure the legal and technical security of the Company and persons with whom the Company has a business relationship;
3. Planning and/or carrying out activities necessary to tailor, recommend and promote products and services offered by the Company and/or in the name and on behalf of the Company, based on the preferences, usage habits, and needs of data subjects;
4. Carrying out the necessary activities and related business processes to enable data subjects to benefit from products and/or services offered by the Company and/or in the name and on behalf of the Company;
5. Carrying out the work required by the relevant business units and managing the related business processes for the performance of the Company's commercial and/or operational activities;
6. Planning and/or carrying out the Company's commercial and/or business strategies.

(3) Detailed information on these personal data processing purposes is provided in Annex 3 ("Annex 3- Purposes of Personal Data Processing") to this Policy.

SECTION III PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE TRANSFER OF PERSONAL DATA

Article 7- Transfer of Personal Data:

(1) The Company may transfer data subjects' personal data and special category personal data to third parties for lawful personal data processing purposes, subject to the necessary security measures. In doing so, the Company complies with Articles 8 and 9 of the Law. Detailed information is provided in Annex 4 ("Annex 4- Third Parties to Whom Personal Data is Transferred by the Company and Purposes of Transfer") to this Policy.

(2) Even without the data subject's explicit consent, the Company may transfer personal data to third parties where one or more of the conditions below is met, provided that it acts with due care and implements all necessary security measures, including those prescribed by the Board:

1. The relevant personal data transfer activity is expressly provided for by law;
2. The transfer of personal data by the Company is necessary and directly related to the conclusion or performance of a contract;
3. The transfer of personal data is necessary for the Company to comply with its legal obligations;

4. The personal data has been made public by the data subject and is transferred by the Company only for the purpose for which it was made public;
5. The transfer of personal data by the Company is necessary for the establishment, exercise, or protection of a right of the Company, the data subject, or a third party;
6. The transfer of personal data is necessary for the Company's legitimate interests, provided that the data subject's fundamental rights and freedoms are not prejudiced;
7. The transfer is necessary to protect the life or physical integrity of the data subject or another person, where the data subject is unable to express consent due to actual impossibility or their consent is not legally valid.

(3) Where the Company transfers personal data abroad and any of the conditions for processing personal data or special category personal data set out above is met, the transfer may be carried out as follows:

a) Transfers Based on an Adequacy Decision:

The Board has issued an adequacy decision in respect of the country, sectors within the country or international organization to which the transfer will be made;

b) Transfers Subject to Appropriate Safeguards:

In the absence of an adequacy decision, provided that the data subject is able to exercise their rights and seek effective legal remedies in the country to which the transfer will be made, one of the following appropriate safeguards is in place:

1. The Board has approved binding corporate rules that each member of a group of undertakings operating in more than one country is required to comply with;
2. A standard contract announced by the Board is in place, covering the purposes of the personal data transfer, the categories of data transferred, the recipients and recipient groups, the technical and administrative measures to be implemented by the data recipient, and the additional safeguards for special category personal data;
3. The data controllers in Türkiye and the relevant foreign country have provided a written undertaking to ensure adequate protection, and the Board has authorized the transfer;

c) Occasional Transfers:

In the absence of an adequacy decision and where none of the appropriate safeguards is available, the transfer is occasional and one of the following conditions is met:

1. The data subject has given explicit consent to the transfer after being informed of the potential risks;
2. The transfer is necessary for the performance of a contract between the data subject and the data controller or for the implementation of pre-contractual measures taken at the data subject's request;
3. The transfer is necessary for the conclusion or performance of a contract between the data controller and another natural or legal person for the benefit of the data subject;

4. The transfer is necessary for an overriding public interest;
5. The transfer is necessary for the establishment, exercise or protection of a right;
6. The transfer is necessary to protect the life or physical integrity of the data subject or another person, where the data subject is unable to express consent due to actual impossibility or their consent is not legally valid;
7. The transfer is made from a register open to the public or to persons with a legitimate interest, provided that the conditions for access to the register under applicable legislation are met and the transfer is requested by a person with a legitimate interest.

Personal data may be transferred abroad where any one of the above conditions is met.

Article 8- Transfer of Special Category Personal Data:

(1) The Company may transfer special category personal data in accordance with the principles set out in this Policy, subject to all necessary administrative and technical measures, including the measures prescribed by the Board, where any of the following conditions is met:

1. The data subject has given explicit consent;
2. The transfer is expressly provided for by law;
3. The transfer is necessary to protect the life or physical integrity of the data subject or another person, where the data subject is unable to express consent due to actual impossibility or their consent is not legally valid;
4. The transfer relates to personal data made public by the data subject and is consistent with the data subject's intention in making the data public;
5. The transfer is necessary for the establishment, exercise or protection of a right;
6. The transfer is necessary for the protection of public health; preventive medicine; medical diagnosis; the provision of treatment and care services; or the planning, management and financing of healthcare services, and is carried out by persons subject to a duty of confidentiality or by authorized institutions and organizations;
7. The transfer is necessary to fulfil legal obligations in the areas of employment, occupational health and safety, social security, social services and social assistance;
8. The transfer relates to current or former members or affiliates of foundations, associations and other non-profit organizations or entities established for political, philosophical, religious or trade union purposes, or to persons who are in regular contact with such organizations or entities, provided that it is consistent with the applicable legislation and their purposes, is limited to their fields of activity and does not involve disclosure to third parties.

(2) If special category personal data is to be transferred abroad, in addition to the conditions set forth above, such data shall be transferred to "Foreign Countries with Adequate Protection" or to "Foreign Countries Where the Data Controller has Committed to Adequate Protection."

SECTION IV INFORMATION TO DATA SUBJECTS

Article 9- The Company's Responsibility:

In accordance with Article 10 of the Law and secondary legislation, the Company informs data subjects of the identity of the data controller; the purposes for which their personal data is processed; the persons to whom, and the purposes for which, it may be transferred; the method and legal grounds for collection; and the rights available to data subjects in connection with the processing of their personal data.

SECTION V RETENTION AND DESTRUCTION OF PERSONAL DATA

Article 10- Retention and Destruction:

The Company retains personal data for the period necessary for the purpose for which it is processed and for any minimum period prescribed by applicable legislation. In this context, the Company first determines whether the applicable legislation prescribes a retention period for personal data and, if so, complies with that period. Where no statutory retention period applies, personal data is retained for as long as necessary for the purpose for which it is processed. At the end of the applicable retention periods, personal data is deleted, destroyed and/or anonymized in accordance with the periodic destruction periods or in response to a data subject application, using the designated destruction methods.

SECTION VI PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

Article 11- Measures:

(1) In accordance with Article 12 of the Law, the Company implements the measures required in view of the nature of the relevant data to prevent the unlawful disclosure of, access to, or transfer of personal data, and other security breaches. In this context, the Company implements the necessary technical and administrative measures and conducts, or commissions, audits to ensure an appropriate level of security in accordance with the guidelines published by the Board.

(2) The technical and administrative measures implemented by the Company to protect personal data is applied with particular care to special category personal data, and the necessary internal audits are conducted.

Article 12- Raising Awareness and Auditing Business Units in Relation to the Protection and Processing of Personal Data:

(1) The Company ensures that business units receive the necessary training to raise awareness of the prevention of unlawful personal data processing and unlawful access to personal data and of the safeguarding of personal data.

(2) The Company establishes the necessary systems to promote awareness of personal data protection among existing and newly hired employees and engages consultants where necessary. In this respect, the Company assesses participation in relevant training sessions, seminars and briefings, and organizes further training in parallel with updates to the applicable legislation.

SECTION VII RIGHTS OF DATA SUBJECTS AND THE EXERCISE OF THESE RIGHTS

Article 13- Rights of Data Subjects:

Data subjects have the following rights:

1. To learn whether their personal data is processed;
2. If their personal data has been processed, to request information in this regard;
3. To learn the purpose of processing their personal data and whether it is used in accordance with that purpose;
4. To know the third parties in Türkiye or abroad to whom their personal data is transferred;
5. To request the rectification of personal data that has been processed incompletely or inaccurately and to request notification of the action taken in this respect to third parties to whom the personal data has been transferred;
6. Although processed in accordance with the Law and other applicable laws, to request the deletion or destruction of personal data where the grounds requiring its processing no longer exist, and to request notification of the action taken in this respect to third parties to whom the personal data has been transferred;
7. To object to any outcome against the data subject arising from the analysis of processed data exclusively through automated systems;
8. To claim compensation for damage suffered as a result of the unlawful processing of personal data.

Article 14- Exercise of Data Subject Rights:

Data subjects may submit their requests concerning the rights listed above to the Company, using the Data Subject Application Form available at www.nurol.com.tr and by one of the methods prescribed by the Board.

Article 15- The Company's Response to Applications:

(1) The Company implements the necessary administrative and technical measures to respond to applications submitted by data subjects in accordance with the Law and secondary legislation.

(2) Where a data subject duly submits a request to the Company concerning the rights listed in Article 13, the Company shall conclude the request free of charge as soon as possible, and in any event within 30 (thirty) days, depending on the nature of the request. However, where the processing of the request entails an additional cost, the Company may charge a fee in accordance with the tariff determined by the Board.

SECTION VIII FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 16- Entry into Force and Implementation:

(1) This Policy was approved by the Board of Directors of Nurol Holding A.Ş. by Resolution No. 2026/21 dated 11 August 2026.

(2) This Policy is administered by the Office of the Chief Legal Counsel of Nurol Holding A.Ş.
